Candidates for Election

Bill Bell

We all just want get on with our flying unimpeded, me included. I get a lot out of my own flying and I am lucky enough to be able to devote some time to the BHPA in return.

My main interests and responsibilities are related to competition flying and developments in SSSR but like everyone else on exec I try to play my part in steering the BHPA for the long-term benefit of the members. There is lots to do, some things fascinating and some merely necessary. I hope you will allow me to continue the work on your behalf.

Martin Heywood

I'm fairly "recent" to the sport having only seriously taken it up in 1999, but have served on Exec for the past thirteen of these as Insurance Officer, Chairman and Vice Chairman. Regarding corporate matters I would regard myself as a problem-sorter, and have found this has balanced well with others on Exec who it's said have advantages over me in the ideas department - but that's a good thing! I'm now retired from active flying due to a knee problem, but happy to continue offering my services.

Mark Meadows

I was trained to fly paragliders at a BHPA school just over 10 years ago and have been a BHPA member flying paragliders and paramotors regularly ever since. For the past 12 months I have been undergoing instructor training at a long established BHPA school and I have also been busy coaching low airtime pilots. Last year I organised an event called Parafest, firstly as a massive social for the pilot communities and a place for the trade to exhibit their products and services, secondly to promote the sports to a new audience and encourage new entrants as students for the schools and customers for the related trade.

It is fair to say paragliding has got under my skin and become a huge part of my life. I realise and appreciate the work that the BHPA does for the benefit of the pilots and their efforts to keep our activities as safe as possible and de-regulated so we can all enjoy our flying as we do.

I would like to get involved and offer some input for the development of the sports that have come to dominate my life in recent years and will represent members concerns for any direction it may take.

Judith Mole

By February 2016 I will have been flying hang gliders and paragliders for 20 years. Many members will know me as the voice of the Paraglider podcasts and web casts. I have spent some years on club committees and more recently I have been a member of the BHPA's Pilot Development Panel. I have been a coach since 1998 and have participated in HG and PG competitions. I am standing for exec because of a desire to improve communications with the membership and help make the BHPA more transparent. I have been a communication professional for my whole career and believe I can offer a lot to both the association and the membership.

Richard Shaw

I have been flying paragliders and paramotors since 2001. I began helping to organise UK paramotor competitions in 2007, and in 2012 took on the British team leader role. I have a passion for the sport so much so that I am currently training to be an instructor.

I believe the work of the BHPA is essential in safeguarding the sport for all to enjoy hence my application to join the Executive Council.

John Welch

I am the CFI of Flight Culture, a Dorset based paragliding school, as well as being an Instructor Examiner. I try to represent the interests of schools on the Executive committee. Schools are the life blood of the association and we need to actively support both schools and instructors to keep our association vibrant. Although my area of special interest is schools, I am also committed to the membership in general and passionately believe in our association. Please vote for me and allow me to continue to continue supporting the BHPA on the Executive Council.
